Tribune Yelps Draws I.N.S. Operator's Ire

Editor of The World

In the "You-and-I" column of the Tribune of July 4 there appears an item headed "A. A. U. MEET" in which it is stated that the World did not carry a news item of the meet.

As a representative of the International News Service and as a member of the A. A. U., I am sorry to hear that you did not carry a news item of the meet.

Not only did the International News Service carry a news item of the meet, but it also carried a news item of the meet.

The World was absolutely accurate in its report of the meet.

Carpenter Simply Couldn't Take Hard Punches, Tad Says

BY TAD.

NEW YORK, July 5.—"It was not the better man but the bigger man that won," said Jim Corbett, after Saturday's fight.

Well, that is his own opinion. My opinion is that the better and bigger man won.

Dempsey proved himself the better fighter. He has all the qualifications of a champion.

The French boxer has enough weight. He proved that by his wins over Wells, Rockett, Smith and others.

He did the same thing against Dempsey Saturday but instead of beating him, he was beaten.

Right here is where Mr. Dempsey proved himself the better man. Carpenter's stock in trade was a right uppercut and a right to the chin.

In the second round he dealt his favorite to Dempsey and failed to stop him.

MISERY IN MOROCCO

CEUTA, Morocco, July 4.—Apart from all international agreements and political reasons, the stranger in the Spanish zone of Morocco soon reaches the conclusion that humane feeling and propriety call for an effort to bring the inhabitants of Morocco into contact with civilization.

The sloth and misery existing among the men of Morocco strike one on every hand, and the correspondent of The Associated Press during a recent tour found evidence everywhere of the depths to which the natives have sunk.

For instance, despite labor of any kind for the purpose of making a living, they think it good, however, for their women folk and see them, for instance, in harnessing their wives to beasts of burden.

Frequently women may be seen carrying their infants in leather sacks slung at their sides, and they are attached to the same yoke as a decrepit bullock or a consumptive cow dragging a clumsy cart.

Behind them their lords and masters hold lengthy discussions, never giving aid or even in the most difficult circumstances.

At night the men sally forth to rob in the neighboring settlements, for they are capable of shaking off their inherited love of theft. Many of them, it is said, would murder a close relative for a silver coin and it is certain that even in circumstances of the utmost need they will go on thieving expeditions.

Much has been done for those of the natives who have submitted to Spanish administration. They have been supplied with seeds, implements and clothing and attempts have been made to introduce cleanliness and to ally the life of the crooked, century-old custom.

DEMPSEY OFF TO VISIT HIS MOTHER

Champion Boards Train for Salt Lake City; To Go to California Then

NEW YORK, July 5.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight boxing champion, quietly left his hotel here today and a short time later was aboard a train bound for Salt Lake City.

He was accompanied by his trainer, Teddy Hayes, his manager, Joe Jacobs, and a few friends.

Who is this Palmer chapie, anyway? "Where is he from?" "Who else did he ever whip?" "Why haven't we heard of him before?" These were some of the questions asked about him.

Kid Palmer, alias "the Arizona Wildcat," whose name was mentioned yesterday when he stepped off in Tulsa for several hours with his manager, A. J. Jacobs.

The kid is a young man who took Philadelphia's boxing post in the "campaign of Texas" as a member of Uncle Sam's well-known army.

He has been fighting now for about three years and has cleaned up in most of the tough scrapers of the eastern lands down about the border. Probably the kid's most notable achievement was his championship victory over Young Fitz on June 3 at El Paso.

Palmer and his manager, Mr. Jacobs, started east, intending to sojourn for awhile in the kid's home town of Philadelphia. They changed, however, to meet up with Bobby Burns, boxing promoter of Muskogee, and a friend of Palmer during his army days.

Burns wanted to get the kid started in Oklahoma, and finally convinced him to agree to a match at Muskogee on July 12, next Tuesday, with Ted Hargrove, a budding young Muskogee lightweight.

This should be a real battle, the 125-pound Palmer's experience and boxing craftiness offsetting the ten pounds in weight he will concede to Hargrove.

If Palmer disposes of Hargrove in impressive style he probably will have a chance later on to display his ways in a Tulsa ring. It may be some time before he finishes that trip to Philadelphia.

Kid Palmer, Who Won Over Young Fitz at El Paso, to Box in Muskogee on July 12

When the news trickled into Oklahoma about a month ago that Kid Palmer, a young and comparatively unknown middleweight, had given the smart and billy Young Fitz a severe beating in a four-round match at El Paso, Oklahoma boxing fans sat up and took notice.

Who is this Palmer chapie, anyway? "Where is he from?" "Who else did he ever whip?" "Why haven't we heard of him before?" These were some of the questions asked about him.

JUDGE REFUSES BLACK SOX PLEA

Attempt to Have Indictments Quashed Fails in Chicago Court

CHICAGO, July 5.—This baseball trial, which is the second in a series of trials which have been held in Chicago since the discovery of the Black Sox scandal, today resulted in a verdict which was a surprise to many of the spectators.
